

Google Cloud IAM Service Accounts

Cloud IAM Service Accounts

- A special Google account that belongs to an application or VM
- Service account is identified by its unique email address
- Service accounts are associated with key-pairs used for authentication
- Two types of service accounts
 - User managed
 - Google managed
- Each service account is associated with one or more roles